

Amazon Freelance Post-editors / Translators

Are you looking to collaborate with one of the fastest-growing and most innovative e-commerce businesses? Start freelancing for Amazon and help us contribute to expanding our product selection across our platforms. Doorlopend.

The role

As a native freelancer for the target language, you will be responsible for post-editing, translating and proofreading product descriptions to make them available to Amazon customers. You will mostly focus on post-editing projects. Using CAT tools, you will ensure that human and machine-generated translations meet Amazon's specific style guides and internal standards for product detail pages.

Amazon is currently looking for talented and highly motivated linguists to work as post-editors/translators in any language pairs. The most wanted language combinations at this time are the following:

- German to Chinese Simplified Mandarin (native)
- German to Czech (native)
- German to Spanish (native)
