

ANEWAL Gallery Kyoto Japan

The nonprofit organization ANEWAL Gallery in Kyoto (Japan), aims to contribute to the Nishijin region by using art, design and cultural activities as a means. Currently we are looking for internship students who would like to support our activities. Geplaatst 10-2-2017

Internship students will be concerned with the following activities

- Employing media such as art, design and culture in order to contribute to the community collaboration activities of the Nishijin ward in Kyoto.
- Supporting foreign artists who participate in our Artist in Residence program: interpreting between them and local people, supporting their artistic activities and their lives in Kyoto.
- Organizing events and exhibitions in our machiya, a traditional merchant's house of Kyoto that we use as an art gallery.
- Translating articles on our website and social media pages (English – Japanese and Japanese – English).
- Creating web design and graphics for our activities.

We are recruiting the following people

- Those who are interested in the traditional culture of Kyoto and Japan, such as traditional crafts, theater and the traditional architecture of machiya.
- Those who are broadly interested in art and in the connection between art and society.
- Those who would like to communicate with Japanese people and are willing to participate actively in intercultural communication.
- Those who are interested in writing articles (for social media), designing, planning activities and who have a passion for working with all kinds of forms of expression.

Requirements

- Good speaking, writing and reading skills of the Japanese and English languages (we also encourage those who are able to speak any other foreign languages).
- The possibility to follow an internship in Japan for a period of a half year – one year (the period of your internship can be discussed beforehand).
- A basic command of software such as Microsoft Word, Microsoft Excel et cetera.

About ANEWAL Gallery

ANEWAL Gallery is an art gallery that is housed in a traditional machiya of Kyoto. With this art gallery as a focal point, we organize various activities along with designers, artists and creators. With our concept 'A gallery that goes beyond its walls', we are also active in going out of the gallery, utilizing all kinds spaces in town for art exhibitions and cultural activities. These vary from important cultural property to abandoned buildings in the Nishijin ward of Kyoto. Currently we are also organizing 'AN AIR', our own Artist in Residence program that is aimed at foreign artists.
