

Justice and Peace Netherlands is committed to a just and sustainable world. We support human rights defenders who work at the local level worldwide with trainings, our temporary relocation programme Shelter City and advocacy. We are also dedicated to an equitable treatment and protection of refugees. In The Netherlands we organise Welkom Hier festivals together with local partners and refugees. On a political level we advocate for a human dimension, dignity and uniformity in the Dutch and European Migration policy.

The Human Rights Defenders Programme

The 'Human Rights Defenders and Security' programme of Justice and Peace supports Human Rights Defenders all over the world through the following projects:

- Shelter City, in which Human Rights Defenders at risk are temporarily relocated in The Netherlands for 3 months in order to rest and respite, gain new knowledge, energy, and expand their network.
- The Hague Training Course (THTC), in which they participate in 10-day training course that aims to support Human Rights Defenders (HRDs) by facilitating the strengthening of their knowledge and skills on 4 main modules: training of trainers, holistic security (physical, digital, psychological), advocacy and policy influencing and international protection mechanisms.

Justice and Peace offers the following internship from mid-October to mid-December 2017:

Internship: Human Rights Defenders and Security programme
