

A sneak peek at our organization

Merck: A Leader in Life Science

Problem solving is our passion ... find out about us!

Our purpose is to solve the toughest problems in life science by collaborating with the global scientific community – and through that, we aim to accelerate access to better health for people everywhere. We provide scientists and engineers with best-in-class lab materials, technologies and services. With the 2015 combination of Merck Millipore and Sigma-Aldrich, we now have a broad portfolio of 300,000 products, an expanded global footprint and an industry-leading eCommerce platform - SigmaAldrich.com. We have approx. 39,000 employees spread across the world and still expanding!

We are dedicated to making research and biotech production simpler, faster and safer.

Our graduates and students make a difference

When great minds get together, they inspire each other. Our collaborative culture proves it. By working a better way – sharing ideas, voicing opinions, giving feedback and lending support – we get better results. It's an approach that helps us make great things happen whether we're developing medications that fight cancer, applications for the life science industry, more powerful LCD and OLED technology or brighter pigments.

Wherever you join us, and in whatever role, you'll work alongside committed, high-performing people who want to make a difference. And you'll help us build on a long history of progress that stretches all the way back to 1668.

We believe in offering people flexible career development to suit their aspirations. Within a short time of joining Merck, you'll become part of a globally operating group, working in an inspiring environment with a highly-motivated team that will help you to improve your theoretical and practical knowledge. We'll invest in your development, so you can be the best you can be.
