

B R I L L

GRADUATE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM at BRILL

Thinking about a future in academic publishing? Get ahead of the game, fast-track your personal development and fulfill your potential through a placement at Brill Publishing Company. This is a great opportunity to develop your skills and gain work experience within an independent publishing company specializing in academic publications in the humanities, law and biology. Brill is committed to publishing high-quality content in a wide range of product types such as books, journals, online reference works, primary sources and databases, in print and electronic formats that are international in scope and peer-reviewed. With offices in Leiden, Boston, Singapore and Beijing, Brill publishes extensively for learned societies, universities and professional bodies and institutions around the world.

For the preparation of a new online publication on Christian Iconography we are looking for an:

Intern (M/F)

For a minimum of 2 days a week for at least 3 months to be started as soon as possible
You will be based in our office in Leiden

Your internship assignment:

- Iconographical research
- Use of the *Iconclass system for classifying images and texts
- Various other tasks related to publishing

Requirements:

- You must be a current master student in the Humanities (Art History, History, Religious Studies, Classical Studies) at an accredited higher education institution in the Netherlands.
- You must have a good written command of English.
- Some knowledge of German
- Some knowledge about the Bible and its iconography
- You must be I.T. literate (Word, Excel).

The internship program offers:

Based at our head office in Leiden, the internship program will give you the chance to explore the publishing business, you will:

- acquire knowledge of Iconclass and iconography
- acquire a basic knowledge of online publishing
- understand how a publishing company interacts with editors.
- receive an idea of the production process of an online publication

You will receive an internship allowance of € 350,- gross per month on a full time basis. Our Acquisitions Editor Art History will supervise the internship program. You'll be working in close cooperation with the Editors of the online publication.

How to apply?

BRILL

More information about the internship assignment can be obtained from Liesbeth Hugenholtz, Acquisitions
Editor Art History, phone: 071–53 53 484 or email: hugenholtz@brill.com (in Dutch or English)
Please send your CV and motivation letter to Liesbeth Hugenholtz at hugenholtz@brill.com

About Brill

Founded in 1683 in Leiden, the Netherlands, Brill is a leading international academic publisher in 20 main subject areas, including Middle East and Islamic Studies, Asian Studies, Classical Studies, (Art) History, Biblical and Religious Studies, Language & Linguistics, Biology, and International Law, among others. With offices in Leiden, Boston, Singapore and Beijing, Brill today publishes 225 journals and around 900 new books and reference works each year, available in both print and electronic form. Brill also markets a large number of primary source research collections and databases. The company's key customers are academic and research institutions, libraries, and scholars. Brill is a publicly traded company and is listed on Euronext Amsterdam NV. You can find more information about our company and publication programs on our website www.brill.com.

*Iconclass (www.iconclass.nl)

Iconclass is a classification system designed for art and iconography. It is the most widely accepted scientific tool for the description and retrieval of subjects represented in images (works of art, book illustrations, reproductions, photographs, etc.) and is used by museums and art institutions around the world.