Best period to go on exchange	First or second semester (depending on your own personal schedule you choose the semester you want to go on exchange)
Application deadlines (Erasmus+ and faculty wide agreements)	1 Feb (for the whole academic year 2019-2020)
Requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You have to be a third year Bachelor student or Master student; • You need to have at least 120 ECTS at the moment of selection (including your first-year diploma), preferably you have passed Contract Law, Constitutional and Administrative Law, Criminal Law and Property Law); • You need to have a good motivation to study abroad; • You have to be registered at Leiden University during your study abroad period. You pay a tuition fee to Leiden University which exempts you from paying a tuition fee to the partner university; • You have to proof that you have a sufficient language proficiency of the language of instruction at the partner university. A minimum level of B2 is required for all universities (B2 = 7.0 average for final exam English VWO.) You can also do a language test at ATC Leiden). • Some universities have extra (language) requirements, you can find those on the final pages.
Required documents	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Motivation letter (top 3 with foreign universities: motivate why you want to study at these 3 universities); • CV; • Proof of sufficient language proficiency of the language of instruction at the partner university (copy of graduation list VWO or other certificates of language courses such as TOEFL and IELTS); • Form to grant the Office for International Education permission to request your transcript from uSis (the form can be found on our website).

Please note: In the column available places the number indicates how many semester students we can select for that university in one academic year. So for example we can send 2 students for one semester each to the University of Vienna.

Where it is stated "year" after the number this means you can only go on exchange to this university for one academic year!
